1. Introduction

The purpose of this document is to provide you with an overview of BLG Wealth and to introduce you to our services and associated fees; so that we may agree a service proposition with you that best suits your personal needs and objectives.

We will discuss in detail our service propositions with you so that you fully understand what is offered and the benefits provided to you. Should you have any questions on any aspect of this document please do not hesitate to ask us.

As it sets out the detailed terms of a legal contract between us, please do not hesitate to contact us if anything is unclear.

You will be asked to sign to confirm you have read and understood the contents of this agreement and to agree they accurately reflect the general services that you have instructed us to provide.

2. Company Background

BLG Wealth provides independent financial advice to individuals who wish to create, enhance and protect their wealth. Our independence influences all aspects of our approach and the only alliance we have is to you. Our advice remains balanced and unbiased, combining broad-based knowledge with specialist in house expertise.

As Independent Planners, we are not restricted in the products and advice that we provide to you, as we are able to access the “whole of the market” to provide relevant and flexible solutions to help you meet your needs and objectives.

Our aim is to plan for your long-term financial security and our depth of experience means that our Independent Planners are able to provide help for individuals with differing circumstances, resources and requirements.

Our independent and impartial approach enables us to offer pragmatic advice and deliver decisive recommendations. For you, that means a saving of money and time, and the acquisition of a clear, well-structured strategy, aimed at achieving your short, medium and long term goals.

Whatever your situation, at BLG Wealth, we believe that the qualifications, skills and experience of our Independent Planners, together with our expertise, enable us to provide you with a solution you can trust.

3. Our Approach

We will take the time to talk freely with you about your needs, gaining insights, listening to your ideas, and most importantly, understanding your objectives. We believe these steps are crucial to the development of a strategy that matches your aspirations.

At BLG Wealth we bring a wide range of knowledge and skills to the challenges of safeguarding your wealth – combining expertise, knowledge of current legislation and understanding your needs and objectives with a track record of delivering a first-class service to our clients, as well as value for money.

We are committed to providing the highest standard of independent financial planning advice and service. Your interests are very important to us and for any financial planning advice or service we provide we will:

- Be open, honest and transparent in the way we deal with you
- Not place our interests above yours
- Communicate clearly, promptly and without jargon
- A clear and transparent fee structure

Our aim is to build a long-term relationship with you so we can help you to achieve your lifetime goals and aspirations.

4. Our Products and Services

Investment

Independent advice – we will advise and make a recommendation for you after we have assessed your needs. Our recommendation will be based on a comprehensive and fair analysis of the market.

Insurance

We offer products from a range of insurers for: Accident & Sickness Insurance, Critical Illness Insurance, Income Protection Insurance, Mortgage Protection Assurance, Private Medical Insurance and Term Assurance.

We will advise and make a recommendation for you after we have assessed your needs for Accident & Sickness Insurance, Critical Illness Insurance, Income Protection Insurance, Mortgage Protection Assurance, Private Medical Insurance and Term Assurance.

We only offer products from a single provider (Paymentshield) for Buildings & Contents Insurance.

Mortgages

We are independent mortgage advisers and we will recommend a first or second charge mortgage product that is suitable for you following an assessment of your personal needs and circumstances. This will include a detailed assessment of affordability.

We will consider all products and lenders that we have access to. This means we will not consider those lenders that are only available by you going direct to them.

Where you are increasing your borrowing, we will consider the merits of both a new first charge mortgage and securing this by an additional mortgage on a second charge basis. You may have the option of a further advance from your existing lender, however, we will only consider this where we are able to deal directly with the lender on your behalf. It may be in your best interests to explore this option and look at the further alternative of an unsecured loan as these may be more appropriate for you.

We will advise and make a recommendation for you on mortgages once we have assessed your needs.

We are committed to providing the highest possible levels of service and we will take the time to ensure you understand the services we provide and their associated costs. We want you to be able to make an informed decision about the services you wish us to provide. This empowerment forms part of our ethos and culture.

This ethos carries over into our recommendations, where we will provide you with the necessary information to enable you to make informed decisions as to the approach you take to achieve your short, medium and long term financial planning objectives.

5. Additional Services

We are able to offer general insurance contracts, such as buildings and contents insurance. We do not offer a whole of market service for this type of insurance. Instead, we offer insurance from a single provider, Paymentshield.

Furthermore, we offer a range of additional services relating to your Estate. These services include Lasting Power of Attorney and an in-house Will Writing service. We aim to give all our clients certainty and confidence that in the event they lose capacity or on death, their assets and Estate can still be managed according to their needs and wants. We will advise and make a recommendation once we have assessed your needs.

6. Our Regulator

We are authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority ('FCA'), 12 Endeavour Square, Stratford, London, E20 1JN. Our authorisation number is 561959.

Our permitted business activities are advising on and arranging pensions, savings and investment products, regulated first and second charge mortgages and non-investment insurance contracts. You can check this on the FCA's Directory by visiting the FCA's website www.FCA.gov.uk or by contacting the FCA on 0800 111 6768.

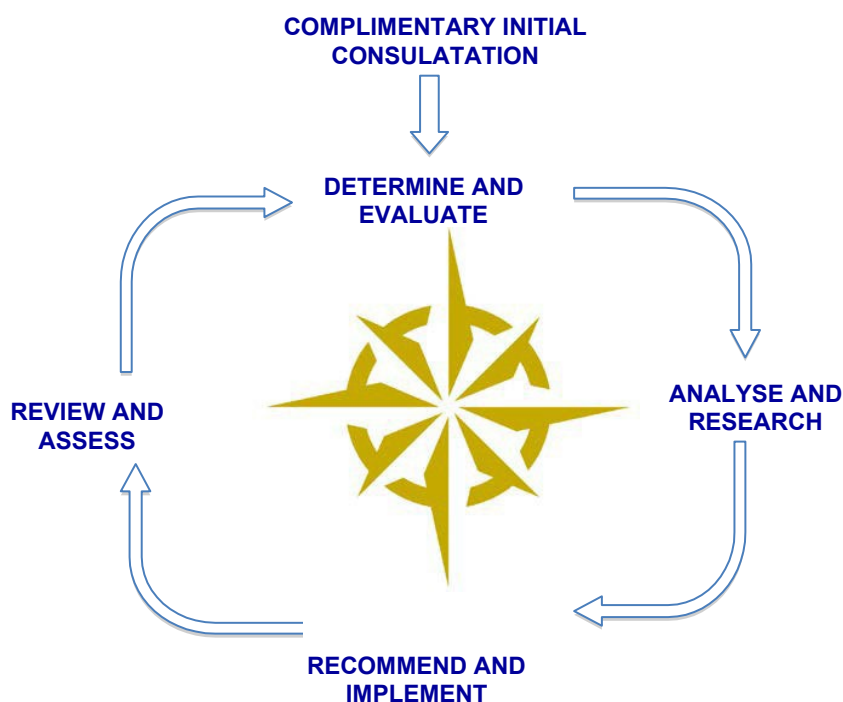

We will observe and act in accordance with the principles, rules and guidelines of the FCA. We accept instructions to act for you on this basis.

7. Treating Customers Fairly & Consumer Duty

We have embraced the Financial Conduct Authority's 'Treating Customers Fairly' principle and welcome any feedback you have on any element of our service that justifies comment, whether positive or negative. This will help us to ensure we are providing the services you require and improve upon any areas about which you may have a concern. Although we have a formal complaints procedure, we would rather that you are satisfied and raise any concerns prior to there being a problem. The Consumer Duty sets the standard of care that we will give to our clients. Consumer Duty is underpinned by the concept of reasonableness and putting clients at the heart of our business and focus on delivering good outcomes.

9. Payment of Initial Fees

During your complimentary initial meeting, we will outline the services we can offer you and explain the costs involved. Should you decide to proceed there is a cost for our services and you will be required to sign a copy of this Terms of Business.

Payment for our Services

The following information explains our charging structure and your payment options in general terms.

9.1 Investments

We will usually agree our fee with you during our initial meeting. Our fee is either based on a percentage of the amount that you invest, an agreed hourly rate fee or a fixed fee and is subject to a minimum fee of £600. We will then conduct our research, prepare and present to you our report detailing our recommendations, with our fee becoming due on presentation of this recommendation report.

You will be given the option of paying the fee yourself or having it deducted from the recommended product(s). Where you elect to pay your fee via deduction from the product(s), we will discuss with you the most appropriate and tax efficient way to do this.

9.2 Lump Sum Investments

For lump sum investments or transfers we charge an initial fee equivalent to 1.5% of the amount you invest. All our new business fees are subject to a minimum charge of £600. This fee becomes chargeable at the point when we provide you with a recommendation report.

9.4 An agreed Hourly Rate

Your fee can be calculated using an hourly rate and is based on the amount of time it takes to complete the work for you, subject to our minimum fee of £600. We will provide you with an estimate of how many hours we expect this to take and we will not exceed this without checking with you first. This payment is paid directly by you (a fee agreement and a subsequent invoice will be provided for this payment), or from an existing plan where the provider is able to facilitate ad-hoc fees (you will be asked to sign an authority for this payment).

Our hourly rates are:

Qualified Financial Planner	£250
Qualified Research Technician	£125
Administrator	£ 80

Agreed Hourly Rate Example

Administrator	2 Hours	£ 160
		£1,160

9.5 An agreed Fixed Fee

Your fee can be calculated and agreed with you as a fixed fee. We will base this on an hourly rate and an estimate of the amount of time it takes to complete the work for you, subject to our minimum fee of £600. We guarantee that the fee being charged for the work will be fixed at the amount agreed at outset. This payment is paid directly by you (a fee agreement and a subsequent invoice will be provided for this payment), or from an existing plan where the provider is able to facilitate ad-hoc fees (you will be asked to sign an authority for this payment).

9.6 Mortgages

A standard fee of 0.25% of the mortgage amount is payable directly by you, subject to a minimum charge of £600. 50% is due on submission of the mortgage application and 50% is due on receipt of the mortgage offer.

The recommended lender may pay us a procurement fee on completion of the mortgage. The amount of any procurement fee paid will be disclosed on your mortgage key facts illustration.

Mortgage Fee Example

A Mortgage Amount of £250,000

Fee due to BLG Wealth = £625 (£250,000 x 0.25%)

£312.50 is due on application

£312.50 is due on receipt of a mortgage offer

We may also charge you an additional fixed rate fee, depending upon the complexity of your requirements. This fee will be agreed with you in advance, and you will need to sign a formal fee agreement before we undertake any work for you.

If we charge you a fee and your mortgage does not go ahead, you will receive:

- No refund if you decide not to proceed

9.7 Insurance

We do not usually charge you a direct fee for your insurance arrangements as this fee is usually paid by the recommended insurance provider. The fee amount being paid to us will be disclosed to you when we present our written recommendation. We do have a minimum charge of £600 for each insurance recommendation, so if the expected fee is below this minimum charge, you will be required to pay the balance directly. Should we prepare insurance recommendations and you do not proceed you will be charged our minimum charge of £600 for each insurance recommendation.

In respect of any regular premium life policy which we have arranged for you, should you subsequently cease to pay premiums on the policy and in consequence we are obliged to refund part of the fee that has been paid to us we reserve the right to charge you a fee representing the amount we have to repay. We will not charge any such fee if you exercise your right to cancel in accordance with any cancellation notice sent to you by the insurance company.

Our transactional service is for individuals who do not require a proactive service proposition. This means that you do not receive regular ongoing service and reviews. We will agree a fee with you, each time we provide a service to you.

11. Payment of Service Proposition Fees

Our service proposition fee is payable quarterly, in arrears. The fee is calculated using the value of your portfolio at each of the following quarter dates:

- 31st March
- 30th June
- 30th September
- 31st December

As our service proposition fees are calculated on a percentage basis, this means that an increase in the value of your investments, will increase the service fee paid to us. Similarly, a decrease in the value of your investments, will decrease the service fee paid to us.

If your service agreement begins mid quarter, your fee will be calculated from the date your agreement started until the end of the current quarter and based upon value of your portfolio at the first quarter end date.

11.1 Payment Options

Your service proposition fees can be paid in the following ways:

- You can pay the fee directly to us. We will issue an invoice to you and you will make the payment directly to us, by debit card, credit card, cheque or bank transfer.
- You can pay the fee through the recommended product(s). The product provider will deduct the payment from the amount invested and make payment to us. We will not issue an invoice to you.
- You can pay the fee by a combination of a direct fee and through the recommended product(s). We will agree the amount of the fee that is to be paid through the product(s) and at the end of each quarter we will calculate the balance due and issue an invoice to you. Payment can be made by debit card, credit card, cheque or bank transfer.

Premier Wealth Service Example Fee

A Portfolio Value of £200,000

Annualised ongoing service fee due to BLG Wealth = £2,000 (£200,000 x 1%)

Wealth Service Example Fee

A Portfolio Value of £150,000

Annualised ongoing service fee due to BLG Wealth = £750 (£150,000 x 0.5%)

11.2 Older Contracts

Many older contracts or legacy products will continue to pay an ongoing fee to BLG Wealth, this will be factored into your annual recurring income that we receive.

Certain changes made to these products may result in this ongoing fee ceasing to be paid and at that point we will discuss with you the option of arranging for our service proposition fee to be paid directly by you, or from the contract directly by way of written instruction from you.

12. Supplementary Information

12.1 Money Laundering

We are required to carry out identity and Anti-Money Laundering checks on all new recommendations to BLG Wealth. The process includes an identity check which may leave a soft footprint on your credit history records. We will also ask you to provide two forms of identity including your passport, driving license or a utility bill. We will also require evidence and sight of your source of funds due to be invested. All of these processes are intended to stop financial crime and eliminate the investment of proceeds of criminal activities. We are obliged by law to report any instances of money laundering to the National Crime Agency without your knowledge or consent.

12.2 Best Execution

It is in the interests of our clients and the firm that we obtain the best possible result when placing orders with other firms when transmitting orders on behalf of clients for particular investments. For orders in collective investment schemes (e.g. unit trust), however, the price of units or shares in the scheme is normally set by the scheme operator or manager and as such we have little influence over the price available.

12.3 Cancellation rights – Changing your mind

You should only proceed with a transaction once you are happy with all elements involved with it. Please ensure you are aware of the details of the product and how it matches your objectives and your attitude to investment risk.

In most cases, you can exercise a right to cancel, by withdrawing from the contract recommended to you. In general terms, you will normally have a 30-day cancellation period for a life, pure protection or pension product and a 14-day cancellation period for all other products.

The start of the cancellation period will normally begin, for pure protection policies, when you are informed that the contract has been concluded or, if later, when you have received the contractual terms and conditions. In other cases, the cancellation period will begin on the day the contract is concluded or, if later, the day on which you receive the contractual terms and conditions. Instructions for exercising the right to cancel, if applicable, will be contained in the relevant product disclosure information which will be issued to you by the product provider.

If you cancel a single premium contract, you may be required to pay for any loss you might reasonably incur in cancelling it, which is caused by investment market movements. This means that, in certain circumstances, you might not get back the full amount you invested if you cancel the policy.

If you wish to cancel a contract, please contact us immediately.

12.4 Client categorisation

Unless you receive confirmation in writing to the contrary, in all our dealings on investment matters you will be treated as a Retail Client. This means that you are afforded the highest level of protection under the regulatory system and should have the right to take any complaint to the Financial Ombudsman Service (FOS).

Further information in respect of the Financial Ombudsman Service is available on their website at the address below: <http://www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk/>

12.5 Communication

We will enter into communication with you through whatever means are convenient to you including face-to-face, telephone, paper, e-mail and other acceptable electronic communication methods. Our communications will ordinarily be in English both in respect of oral and written communications.

12.6 Conflict of interest

Occasions may arise where the firm, an employee, or other associates of the firm has competing professional or personal interests which may prevent these services being provided to clients in an independent or impartial manner.

We will take all appropriate steps to prevent conflicts of interests from occurring in line with the firm's conflicts of interest policy. However, there may be occasions where a conflict of interest cannot be prevented. Where this is the case, we will disclose to you the nature of the conflict and the steps that we will take to mitigate the risk that you will be treated unfairly as a result of any conflicts identified.

We will make you aware of any conflicts of interest before the provision of services to enable you to choose whether you still wish to proceed with services. We may on occasion receive minor non-monetary benefits from third parties such as product providers e.g. food and drink provided at a provider training event. Where relevant, any minor non-monetary benefits received will not conflict with our duty to act in your best interests.

The financial markets and world events are notable matters that can impact on the recommended approach to you achieving your objectives. It should be noted that products are very rarely guaranteed and therefore there is an inherent risk in all products. By “risk”, we mean the possibility that a product will not achieve the stated objective.

Please be aware that investments can fall as well as rise, and that you may not get back the full amount invested. The price of investments we may recommend may depend on fluctuations in the financial markets, or other economic factors, which are outside of our control. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Specific warnings relevant to the investments or investment strategies we recommend will be confirmed to you in your recommendation report.

Although we will explain the risk of the product as part of our advice process (with the exception of execution only transactions) you should always ensure you have understood the risk associated with the product/service being provided. If you are unsure about the way the product or recommendations work, or require any further clarification please ensure that you raise this with your Planner.

Our Investment Service

Introducing our Investment Service

BLG Wealth in conjunction with specialist investment firms, offer a suite of risk optimised model portfolios targeted at the complete range of investor risk profiles. Our investment approach leverages the efficiency of cutting-edge technology with the oversight of experienced professionals to deliver an investment service that helps you keep as much of the gains in your pocket as possible.

Our portfolios are driven by our comprehensive ratings system, which independently rate a broad selection of top-quality funds covering all asset classes and sectors.

We have a range of portfolio types designed to produce superior risk adjusted returns. Each portfolio is regularly reviewed and has strict targets that it must meet in regard to both performance and risk.

Our Philosophy

Our model portfolio service looks to add value to your investments.

It is our belief that an actively managed investment strategy can bring real benefits to investors and can add significantly to the value of your investments. Excellent funds can deliver excellent returns and the right mix of strategies can deliver a portfolio with greater potential and less risk.

We believe that investment success is down to a multitude of factors and search for influences that can make a difference, from the structure of a fund, to the history of the fund manager through to the culture of the business they work for. It is also our goal to make sure this information is understood by the people who matter, you, the investor whose money is being entrusted to the fund management industry.

We strip away jargon and embrace transparency to ensure we communicate what is truly going on. Understanding is the foundation for confident decision making which we believe is the ultimate key to investment success, at every level.

Our Investment Strategies

Our investment strategies are tailored to a specific asset allocation model, which is determined by the outcome of our discussions with you regarding your attitude to investment risk, your investment time horizon and your capacity for loss.

Our Bespoke Investment Strategy

Our bespoke investment service is ideally suited to our clients who want to be actively involved and consulted about their investments and to approve any changes to the investment funds within their portfolio. It also means that the investment funds selected can be more diversified across your entire investment portfolio.

Through our quarterly meetings, we measure the performance of the individual investment funds and the current asset allocation structure for each investment that you hold and through consultation with you, make decisions about the actions needed in respect of the individual investment funds that you hold. We will then present to you a set of recommendations to approve before any action is taken.

Costs

The costs of the portfolio will depend on the structure and type of investments used. Active investment funds are generally more costly than passive investment funds. This is because under an active fund significant resources are required in order for the fund manager to identify the best investment opportunities. These could include but are not limited to a team of analysts, regional offices and additional trading costs. A passive fund is tracking an index and so does not require the same level of resource as an active fund and so has a lower cost.

Who is this suitable for?

This service is generally suited to those who are knowledgeable and have an opinion about investing, meaning they want to be heavily involved in the investment process. They see investing more as a dialogue between multiple parties in which they are keen to take part. They should appreciate that this will require them to sign off on every investment decision and that this might not always incur at a convenient time. Markets can be unpredictable and for this reason it can be important to make investment decisions quickly and at short notice, failure to do so could prove costly.

Our Model Portfolio Strategy

Our model investment portfolios invest into carefully selected Unit Trusts and OEICs, which in turn are managed by specialist investment houses.

As discretionary managers have the authority to manage your investments without seeking your permission each time they want to make a change to the portfolio.

Our model portfolio investment service provides the comfort of knowing that your investment funds within your recommended portfolio are continually monitored and not just at your review meeting with us.

A Hybrid Investment Strategy

A hybrid strategy is, as the name suggests, a blend of both active and passive investment strategies into a cost targeted portfolio.

What is an Active Strategy?

An active investment strategy only includes funds that are actively managed, in other words the manager of each investment is investing to try and outperform the market. This is achieved by the fund manager identifying what they see as market inefficiencies, where they believe that investments are undervalued by the market and that they can profit from this by buying cheap before the market corrects.

It also allows the fund manager to position the portfolio according to their view of the market. For instance, if the manager believes that markets are overvalued and likely to fall they can reposition the portfolio so that it is more defensive and will therefore protect investors money. Alternatively, if they believe markets are likely to rally they can invest more aggressively to profit from this. Or it may just be that the manager believes that a certain sector of the market offers poor prospects and therefore they avoid it entirely.

Not all active strategies are the same, the strategy followed by the fund will generally reflect the manager's view on the world. As an example, a manager may follow an income strategy as they believe that companies that pay large stable dividends offer the best opportunity to outperform.

There are many different strategies for investment, for instance: growth, value and cost averaging investing.

What is a Passive Strategy?

A passive investment strategy only includes index tracking funds, in other words the manager, or often just a computer, is trying to replicate the performance of the benchmark as closely as possible. Theoretically therefore if done well the fund should produce exactly the same performance as the underlying index, the only difference being that the costs of investment will mean that it will lag slightly. Passive investors do therefore not expect to outperform the market under any circumstance.

How a Hybrid Strategy Works

A hybrid strategy combines the advantages of both active and passive funds to offer the best of both worlds; some chance of outperformance where it is most likely and significant cost savings in areas where active management adds the least value.

The advantages of active management are that not only can a fund manager use their stock selection skills to generate out performance but they can reposition their portfolio into cash or other defensive investments in order to protect investors returns. Then when markets are booming they can switch their investments into something more aggressive in order to maximise returns. This approach can deliver better performance but comes at an additional cost as fund managers, analysts and other infrastructure required to beat the market all have to be paid for.

Passive funds are usually much cheaper as they are simpler to run and these efficiencies can be passed on to the investor. Both these characteristics can be combined in a hybrid strategy.

Costs

A hybrid portfolio is considered the middle option in terms of costs. Generally active funds are more expensive due to the increased costs of running the fund, this can include a large analyst team, regional offices and higher trading costs. In contrast passive investments generally cost less than a third of their active counterparts as costs are limited to the equipment and personnel needed to replicate an index.

Who is this suitable for?

A hybrid strategy is suitable for investors who want some chance of outperformance while keeping costs to a reasonable level.

It is favoured by those who believe that both passive and active investments both have their merits under certain circumstances. They believe a passive investment strategy generally works well in very efficient markets where it makes sense not to pay the extra costs of active management which they believe will inevitably lead to underperformance. Some markets however are highly inefficient and an active approach in this portion of the portfolio could provide the potential for outperformance.

By combining these strategies they believe they maximise their portfolios performance potential by paying higher costs where there is opportunity and accepting the duller, cheaper more predictable option of passives where there is none. A hybrid investment style favours those who want to know exactly what they are going to be paying for their investments.
